ADVERTISING STANDARDS

The following standards apply to all advertising which shall appear in the GHDS Journal. The appearance of advertising in the Greater Houston Dental Society Journal is not a GHDS guarantee or endorsement of the product or the claims made for the product by the manufacturer. The fact that an advertisement for a product, service, or company has appeared in The Greater Houston Dental Society Journal shall not be referred to in collateral advertising.

1. The advertisement shall comply with all applicable legal requirements imposed by state or federal law.
2. The advertisement must comply with the Principles of Ethics and Code of Professional Conduct of the American Dental Association, the Texas Dental Association, and the Greater Houston Dental Society.
3. The advertisement shall not include claims which are not subject to independent verification or which are false, misleading, or deceptive.
4. The technical and aesthetic quality of the advertisement shall be in keeping with the standard required by the GHDS as evidenced by those advertisements appearing in its three (3) most recent issues.
5. The advertisement must not demean the dignity of the dental profession nor promote a product or service which is detrimental to the dental health and safety of the public.
6. The advertisement of a product within the purview of the Council on Dental Therapeutics of the American Dental Association for which an "Acceptance Program" exists shall not be accepted unless it is classified as "Accepted" or "Provisionally Accepted" and the claims are found to be substantiated by the Council.
7. The advertisement of a product within purview of the Council on Dental Materials, Instruments, and Equipment of the American Dental Association for which an official ADA specification exists shall not be accepted unless it is "Acceptable" or "Provisionally Acceptable" and the claims are found to be substantiated by the Council.
8. The advertisement of a product not within the purview of the Council on Dental Therapeutics or the Council on Dental Materials, Instruments, and Equipment, American Dental Association, shall not be accepted unless evidence of safety and effectiveness is demonstrated.
9. The advertisement shall not use the name of the American Dental Association, the Texas Dental Association, the Greater Houston Dental Society, or any Council, Committee, Component Society, or House of Delegates thereof without prior written authorization from the appropriate Association.
10. The advertisement of products or services not directly related to providing dental care to the public, such as insurance, banking services, investment and real estate opportunities, and other non-dental products shall not be accepted unless said product or service is designed and intended to be of special and direct benefit to practicing dentists and their families.
11. Books related to the practice of dentistry will be considered eligible for advertising. In addition, books of interest to dentists and their families as consumers will be eligible for advertising.
12. The advertisement may include the use of a competitor's name and the description of a comparable product or service, including price, if the comparison is made in a manner that is not false or misleading.
13. "Institutional-type" advertising germane to the practice of dentistry and public service messages of interest to dentists are eligible for appearance in the GHDS Journal.
14. Alcoholic beverages and tobacco products are not eligible for advertising.
15. Special purpose foods and nutritional supplements (for example, foods for low-sugar diets, postoperative diets, and therapeutic diets) are eligible when their uses are supported by acceptable data.
16. The GHDS reserves the right to decline advertising for any course that involves the teaching or use of a product or technique that is the subject of an unfavorable or cautionary report by an agency of the American Dental Association.

The purpose of these Advertising Standards is to advise potential advertisers of the requirements of the Greater Houston Dental Society and to assure fair and uniform application. These standards shall be implemented and interpreted by the Editor, subject to review by the GHDS Board of Directors. The physical placement of such categories in The GHDS Journal shall be at the sole discretion of the Editor.
